Course Overview

This course provides a foundational introduction to Rehabilitation Science as an interdisciplinary field and collaboration. Drs. Kramer and Barnard will coordinate a group of rehabilitation scientists in the teaching of this class. The group's main goals will be to highlight the theory and practice of rehabilitation science and to expose students to special rehabilitation topics. The class will be comprised of fourteen sessions, organized into four main themes. Session will combine lectures, in-class activities, student presentations, guest speakers, and discussion. As with all graduate education, each student's active participation and engagement is encouraged. Any readings will be posted ahead of each session on the course website.

Course Objectives and Goals

1. Compare and contrast the primary elements of a variety of models of enablement.
2. Apply different areas of rehabilitation science research to the different models of health, function, and disability.
3. Outline the breadth of rehabilitation research and the types of careers within the field.
4. Dissect contemporary issues in rehab, biomedical research, and society within the context of the rehabilitation science discipline and the relevant models of health, function, and disability.
5. Synthesize, evaluate, and critique academic rehabilitation research pertinent to an area of interest keeping in mind research quality and levels of evidence.
6. Provide constructive feedback for peers and colleagues on rehabilitation science related writings, presentations, and ideas.

What is expected of you?

You are expected to actively engage in the course throughout the semester. You should come to class prepared by completing any out-of-class assignments. This preparation gives you the knowledge or practice needed to engage in higher levels of learning during the class sessions. If you are not prepared for the face-to-face sessions, you may struggle to keep pace with the activities occurring in the live sessions, and it is unlikely that you will reach the higher learning goals of the course. Similarly, you are expected to actively participate in the class. Your participation fosters a rich course experience for you and your peers that facilitates overall mastery of the course objectives.

Reflections Assignments

Students will write a brief, 1 page (double spaced) reflection on a point of interest from each of four lectures. A rubric describing required elements will be posted on Canvas. Reflections are due the Thursday after the session at 11:59pm.

Peer Review Activity

Using some of the best practices in peer review discussed in class, each student will provide a peer review of two other students’ Rehabilitation Science Agenda Part 3 paper. Assignment details and grading rubric will be provided on the course website. Due Nov 12th at 11:59pm.

Presenting to Diverse Audiences

Students will present two powerpoint talks or mock science posters for 5 minutes each on the same topic, but designed for two separate “audiences.” Assignment details and grading rubric will be provided on the course website. This is a required in-class component of the course, and students will present in class on Nov 23rd. Lecture hall meeting location TBD.

Rehabilitation Science Agenda (Parts 1-4)

The overall purpose of this semester long project is to identify, research, and critically evaluate an area of interest in the field of rehabilitation science. Ultimately, you will formulate a future rehabilitation research agenda for your selected topic to continue to move the field forward in that area. The assignment is divided into four parts designed to build upon one another and culminate in the rehabilitation research agenda. Assignment details and grading rubric will be provided on the course website, and due dates for each portion are listed in the “Topics and Course Schedule” table above (always due at 11:59pm on the posted date).

Course Policies

Policy Related to Make up Work

Submission of work after the posted deadline will result in a reduction of 10% off the final grade per day late unless an alternative due date has been discussed and approved by one of the instructors. If special circumstances arise, please communicate this to the instructors, and we will do our best to be flexible. Any requests for make-ups due to technical issues MUST be accompanied by the ticket number received from LSS when the problem was reported to them. The ticket number will document the time and date of the problem. You MUST e-mail within 24 hours of the technical difficulty if you wish to request a make-up.

Policy Related to Required Class Attendance

Please note all faculty are bound by the UF policy for excused absences. Excused absences must be consistent with university policies in the Graduate Catalog:

Online Course Policies

Our class sessions may be audio visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who are unable to attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilize a profile image are agreeing to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. If you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during class, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, which allows students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials is prohibited.

Support Services and Resources

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities

If you require classroom accommodation because of a disability, it is strongly recommended you register with the Dean of Students Office <http://www.dso.ufl.edu> within the first week of class or as soon as you believe you might be eligible for accommodations. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation of accommodations to you, which you must then give to me as the instructor of the course to receive accommodations. Please do this as soon as possible after you receive the letter. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester. The College is committed to providing reasonable accommodations to assist students in their coursework.

Students with disabilities who experience learning barriers and would like to request academic accommodations should connect with the Disability Resource Center by visiting <https://disability.ufl.edu/students/get-started/> . It is important for students to share their accommodation letter with their instructor and discuss their access needs, as early as possible in the semester.

Inclusive Learning Environment

Public health and health professions are based on the belief in human dignity and on respect for the individual. As we share our personal beliefs inside or outside of the classroom, it is always with the understanding that we value and respect diversity of background, experience, and opinion, where every individual feels valued. We believe in, and promote, openness and tolerance of differences in ethnicity and culture, and we respect differing personal, spiritual, religious and political values. We further believe that celebrating such diversity enriches the quality of the educational experiences we provide our students and enhances our own personal and professional relationships. We embrace The University of Florida's Non-Discrimination Policy, which reads, "The University shall actively promote equal opportunity policies and practices conforming to laws against discrimination. The University is committed to non-discrimination with respect to race, creed, color, religion, age, disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, marital status, national origin, political opinions or affiliations, genetic information and veteran status as protected under the Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act." If you have questions or concerns about your rights and responsibilities for inclusive learning environment, please see your instructor or refer to the Office of Multicultural & Diversity Affairs website: www.multicultural.ufl.edu
