

American Sign Language Level 3 (ASL 1130)

Syllabus

Summer Semester 2021

Instructor: Stephen J. Hardy, II Email: sjhardy@php.ufl.edu

Class format: Online (100%)

Zoom Meets

Office hours: Via Zoom and appointments only

Course Description:

This course is the second in a series of courses designed to further develop comprehension and production abilities in American Sign Language (ASL). Lessons are designed around recognition and demonstration of more sophisticated grammatical features of ASL, focusing on increasing fluency and accuracy. Cultural awareness of the Deaf communities of the world is also instilled.

Course Outline:

Unit 4 — Residences and Communities

Unit 5 – Scheduling

Unit 6 – Good Times

Required Texts/Materials:

1. Gelineau, L., Shannon, T., Harris, R., Bryant, R., & Marbury, N. (2019). TRUE+WAY ASL: Unit 7-12 student e-workbook. Austin, TX: Purple Moontower. <http://truewayasl.com>

Required Readings and Course Content

All required readings will be made available through Canvas and posted in the modules at least one week in advance of the due date on which they are covered. The Instructor will also post PowerPoint slides of each class at least 24 hours before that class. Class resources, announcements, updates, and assignments will also be made available through Canvas. So, please check this site frequently: <http://lss.at.ufl.edu>

Course Rationale/Objectives:

The purpose of this course is designed to help you develop the study skills you need to learn a language and to review and practice what you are learning in your language class. This may include lectures, small group activities, use of electronic media, going to ASL Lab, and Deaf events. You will be encouraged to practice your receptive and expressive skills so that you can have a positive experience with your language course. Students are expected to come to class well prepared to participate in daily discussions. The grammatical explanations will be kept to a minimum and students will be required to work in pairs and small groups. Active participation in group work is required for the success of the class.

ASL 2: Student Learning Outcomes

Vocabulary Development

1. Recognize and produce vocabulary items in each unit.
2. Demonstrate comprehensive mastery of targeted vocabulary words drawn from class items and videos.

B. Grammatical Features

1. Grammatical features of ASL will be utilized in all conversational exchanges and class exercises. The student is encouraged not to think in ENGLISH.
2. Demonstrate expressive mastery of dialogues and short sentences, narratives and stories were utilizing ASL grammatical features.
3. Demonstrate the ability to recognize and produce complex ASL sentence structures.

C. Conversational and Communication Skills

1. Demonstrate receptive competence for relatively short narratives, stories, and so forth in ASL signed by the professor or by Deaf users of ASL and classmates.
2. Demonstrate the ability to initiate, conduct, and terminate context-specific conversations of medium length with Deaf users of ASL other than the professor.
3. Demonstrate the ability to express self-generated short stories, short narratives, and others in ASL.
4. Demonstrate the ability to communicate effectively by participating in social/cultural Deaf events and then submitting video presentations based on those events.

D. Cultural Awareness

1. Analyze and critique diverse Deaf communities' competing perspectives in the United States and Canada, ideas, aesthetic traditions, and cultural practices, and its history.
2. Compare, contrast, and interpret differences and commonalities among Deaf and hearing cultures

Course Grading System:

Your comprehension and production skills will be evaluated regularly. You will also be assessed on your preparation for class activities and your assignments outside of the class.

1. TRUE+WAYASL(TWA)e-Workbook assignments 50%

This workbook is designed to retain and reinforce what is learned in the classroom. Complete the assigned workbook assignments by designated due dates announced in the class. Late charges will not be accepted.

2. Quizzes 50%

Some quizzes will be announced in class, and some will be "pop" quizzes. You may not make up any quizzes you miss – if you miss the quiz, you will get a zero. The examinations will be based mainly on the ability to comprehend ASL and cultural information. Questions may also be drawn from the reading/viewing of the TRUE+WAYASL e-workbook/video, video assignments, vocabulary, and class discussions.

Workbook ASL Zone: This classroom is ASL Zone; avoid voicing or English mouthing during class time. Once the professor enters the classroom, please silence yourself and sign with your class peers. Talking without signing in Deaf professor or any Deaf person is considered rude in Deaf culture. Write notes to each other if you must or SIGN! This NO VOICE rule will be enforced from the beginning until the end of the class. Disruptive students will be asked to leave the level.

Online Synchronous Sessions:

Our class sessions may be visually recorded for students in the class to refer back and for enrolled students who cannot attend live. Students who participate with their camera engaged or utilized a profile image agree to have their video or image recorded. If you are unwilling to consent to have your profile or video image recorded, be sure to keep your camera off and do not use a profile image. Likewise, students who un-mute during class and participate orally are agreeing to have their voices recorded. Suppose you are not willing to consent to have your voice recorded during course. In that case, you will need to keep your mute button activated and communicate exclusively using the "chat" feature, allowing students to type questions and comments live. The chat will not be recorded or shared. As in all courses, unauthorized recording and unauthorized sharing of recorded materials are prohibited.

No one is permitted in the classroom except the Instructor and students.

In particular, children are not permitted in the classroom.

Inclusive Learning Environment, Public health, and health professions are based on human dignity and respect for the individual. As we share our ideas inside or outside of the classroom, we always understand that we value and respect the diversity of background, experience, and opinion, where every individual feels valued. We believe in and promote openness and tolerance of differences in ethnicity and culture, and we respect differing personal, spiritual, religious, and political values. We further believe that celebrating such diversity enriches the quality of our students' educational experiences and enhances our own personal and professional relationships.

We embrace The University of Florida's Non-Discrimination Policy, which reads, "The University shall actively promote equal opportunity policies and practices conforming to laws against discrimination. The University is committed to nondiscrimination concerning race, creed, color, religion, age, disability, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and expression, marital status, national origin, political opinions or affiliations, genetic information, and veteran status as protected under the Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act."

If you have questions or concerns about your rights and responsibilities for an inclusive learning environment, please see your Instructor or refer to the Office of Multicultural & Diversity Affairs website: www.multicultural.ufl.edu.

SPECIAL NEEDS AND COUNSELING SERVICES The University of Florida, under the guidelines of ADA and 504 federal legislation, is required to make reasonable accommodations to the known physical and mental limitations of otherwise qualified individuals with disabilities. To help provide the best possible service to students, staff, faculty, and visitors, the University of Florida disabilities.

The ADA coordinator assists anyone with questions about access. See for more information. Students requesting classroom accommodations must first register with the Dean of Students Office. The Dean of Students Office will provide documentation to the student, who must then provide this documentation to the Instructor when requesting accommodation. This information must be given to the Instructor by the second class session of the term.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities If you require classroom accommodation because of a disability, it is strongly recommended you register with the Disability Resource Center within the first week of class or as soon as you believe you might be eligible for accommodations. The Disability Resource Center will provide documentation of accommodations to you, which you must then give to me as the Instructor of the course to receive accommodations.

Please do this as soon as possible after you receive the letter. Students with disabilities should follow this procedure as early as possible in the semester. The College is committed, 392-8570)

Attendance: Students are responsible for satisfying all academic requirements. Absences count from the first class meeting. In general, acceptable reasons for lack from class include illness, serious family emergencies, special curricular needs (e.g., judging trips, field trips, and professional conferences), military obligation, severe weather conditions, religious holidays, and participation in official university activities such as music performances, athletic competition or debate. Bring documentation to the Instructor.

Please let the Instructor know ahead of time of known absences by Email. Absences from class for court-imposed legal obligations (e.g., jury duty or subpoena) must be pre-approved to be excused. Other reasons also may be approved. Students who do not attend at least one of the first two class meetings and who have not contacted the department to indicate their intent can be dropped from the course.

Students must not assume that they will be dropped if they fail to attend the first few class days. I will notify students dropped from courses by Email. Students can request reinstatement on a space-available basis if documented evidence is presented.

The University recognizes a professor's right to make attendance mandatory. University of Florida policy states that after due warning, professors can prohibit further attendance and subsequently, assign a failing grade for excessive absences (including delay and leaving classes early).

Participation: Using cell phones, texting, doing computer work, not being attentive in class, not being involved in all activities, going out to get food, talking, etc., will be considered as a lack of participation and will have 1-2 points taken off for each incidence. Daily participation is 2 points and will be deducted for each unexcused session missed. Inappropriate behavior can be cause by being asked to immediately leave the class that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental values of the university community.

Students who enroll at the university commit to holding themselves and their peers to the honor code's high standard of honor.

Violations of the honor code will be addressed. For example, you have not kept your paper secure, and a classmate copied it. Both documents may be subject to a zero grade.

This applies to all communication forms: written, spoken, signed, gestural, etc., through any media/medium. This includes 'interpreting' to help a student or copy signing. The Honor Pledge: We, the members of the University of Florida community, pledge to hold ourselves and our peers to the highest standards of honesty and integrity.

On all work submitted for credit, the following pledge is implied: "On my honor, I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid in doing this assignment." Assignments: All assignments must be submitted on time in class. Workbook pages must be filled out with your answers on time to count as completed work. Narratives must be prepared ahead of time and ready for in-class performance. Videos must be posted correctly and on time.

Canvas must be checked regularly for course materials, assignments, deadlines, postings, announcements, emails, schedule changes, etc. Language Lab Hours: At least eight hours are required for this course. The hours are not completed each month cannot be made up. The posted language lab hour's sign-in log must be presented to the language lab supervisor at the language lab hour to be signed with the times in and out. It is highly recommended that you get in the habit of attending two language lab hours each month.

Make-Ups and Review Quizzes: Any unexcused absences during review quizzes will result in an automatic zero, and the review quiz cannot be made up. Extra credit hours can be used instead. 10 All regularly scheduled tests, if missed, will be made up during a Reading Day at the end of the semester or an earlier announced day. Missed make-up tests will result in a zero. Signed assignments such as dialogues and stories are to be made up upon return to the next class. Grade Recording: When assignments are turned in, narratives are completed, review quizzes and scheduled tests are graded, etc., then grades will be posted online via Canvas. Check your recorded grade and inform your Instructor of any discrepancies by bringing your original graded paper no later than the 2nd class day after the grades were posted. Corrections will not be made after the 2nd class day. Check your recorded community hours, language lab, and if incorrect, contact your Instructor no later than the first week of the following month, or corrections will not be made.
